

BRITISH KEEP UP ADVANCE

Defeat Two German Counter-Attacks and Continue on

FACE FIERY LIQUID

Forced Back by First Assault, General Haig Reports Ground Regained

London, Aug. 7.—After defeating two strong German counter-attacks in which fiery liquid and noxious gases were used as a screen for the attacking troops, the British resumed yesterday their forward movement. Striking east of Pozieres, along the highroad to Bapaume, Australian and Territorial troops advanced the British lines farther toward the heights of Martinpuich, the crest of the vast plateau across which the battle is being fought. They are now within a mile and a half of this, their immediate objective. From Martinpuich the British artillery would have control of the wide sweep to the eastward which leads down to Bapaume.

Through the vast network of trenches which crisscross this gently rolling terrain the British fought their way inch by inch. The Germans have organized the ground until for miles it is a labyrinth of ditches and dugouts and progress is necessarily slow.

Through earlier attacks north of Bazentin-Le Petit and in the Foreux woods, behind the advanced trenches of the German third line, the British have succeeded in advancing their front on a two-mile sector, until last night the sharp angle at Fourreaux has been considered widened and is now a gradual curve which eliminates the peril of attack from three sides to which it previously had been exposed.

The German counter-attacks in the Pozieres sector were launched early this morning after a night of continuous bombardment which extended along the greater part of the front between the Ancre and the Somme.

The first attack was largely successful, the flaming liquids forcing the British to evacuate a considerable portion of trenches. Then began the slow and arduous task of regaining the lost ground. The English troops were so successful in this that General Haig last night notified the War Office that all but about 40 yards of the position have been regained. The second German attack proved a complete failure. The British artillery was ready, and its curtain of fire broke up the advancing German ranks.

The afternoon statement told of an additional slight advance at High Wood.

A further gain of ground by the French in local operations northeast of the Thiaumont work on the Verdun front was announced by the French War Office yesterday afternoon. A German counter-attack in this sector was repulsed.

Progress for the French southwest of Estrees, on the Somme front, as a result of small engagements, also was announced in Paris.

According to an official announcement, the number of prisoners taken by the French in the week of July 30-August 5, for the most part in the Meuse region, exceeded 2,500.

Desperate engagements continue in the Verdun region, notably in the vicinity of the Thiaumont work, says yesterday's German army headquarters statement. The Germans claim to have made progress in Chapelle Wood.

On the Somme the battle near Pozieres is still in progress, Berlin adds, but says British local attacks near the river and at Fourreaux Wood were repulsed.

NEWS OF THE DAY

The railroad strike which has paralyzed the surface car traffic of four boroughs in New York is likely to be ended today.

There is a rumor in London to the effect that there is likely to be a war in South America. A diplomatic source reports that Peru and Venezuela have secretly agreed to take vast land from Colombia and Ecuador

Two women were killed when an automobile ran against another in front of it on the bridge over Job's Creek, on the Atlantic automobile highway, a mile north of New Gretna, N. J.

Mrs. Sarah Diehl, of York, Pa., stabbed her husband, Charles C. Diehl, to death Saturday night with a butcher knife while he was choking her. Diehl, had been abusing his wife for some time, it is said, and Saturday night knocked her down and choked her. She was arrested and placed in jail.

W. L. Ellis, sheriff of Baylor county, Texas, was knocked down near Seymour, by a blow from the handcuffed fist of Steven Brown, a colored man he had arrested, and then shot with his own revolver, which his assailant snatched from him. The sheriff died two hours later. Brown was overtaken by a mob and shot to death.

A dispatch from Cologne, says the government of the Grand Duchy of Luxembourg has confiscated the entire harvest of this year on the fields. A commission will take charge of the distribution of the breadstuffs and all other food supplies, and card system is planned. The price to be paid to the farmers for their products will be fixed by the Diet at a special session.

Government troops and Villa forces both lost heavily in a sharp skirmish a few miles north of Mapimt, Durango, yesterday, according to reports to Gen. Jacinto Trevino. Lieut. Col. Compean and a dozen privates were killed, while the bandit casualties were estimated at 18. The outlaws were driven into the hills and scattered in the canyons.

Information reaching Washington from New York indicates that the committee of railway managers of the 225 railroad systems in the United States and the representatives of the engineers, firemen, trainmen and conductors are unlikely to effect a direct settlement of their differences, and that the Federal Board of Mediation and Conciliation will have to intervene.

One of the biggest demonstrations by workmen that has occurred during the war took place in Trafalgar square, London, yesterday. The great gathering demanded reprisals for the execution of Capt. Fryatt, of the British steamer Brussels, by the Germans in Belgium, speakers urging the hanging of Emperor William, Admiral von Tirpitz and Governor General von Bissing of Belgium as "common malefactors" before the conclusion of peace.

Andrew Hartwell, 17 years old, angered at an attempt by boy friends to initiate him into a secret society, shot and killed George Bevington, 19 years old, at the mining camp of Colp, west of Herrin, Ill. The killing took place in front of the village church. Both Hartwell and Bevington were employed in the mines. Hartwell fled, after the killing and eluded a posse pursuing him. It is believed he fled to his former home in Tennessee.

Officials at the New York navy yard admitted tonight that they were puzzled over two serious fires on two big battleships at the yard. A blaze on the new dreadnought Oklahoma was put out after a hard fight on Friday night. Two nights before that the battleship Maine was ablaze, and the fire was extinguished only after reserves were sent from the marine barracks, the navy yard and the Oklahoma. The cause of the fires has not been discovered.

BULL MOOSE STAMPEDE

Turns to Democracy as the Party of True Americanism

LEAVE REPUBLICANS

Progressive Leaders, Particularly in Pacific Coast States, Against Hughes

New York, Aug. 7.—The drift of Progressives to the support of President Wilson has become a stampede since their meeting in Indianapolis last Thursday. Republicans, too, are coming to the President's standard in daily increasing numbers since their candidate failed in his speech of acceptance to create an issue that would appeal to the intelligence of the independent voter.

To National Chairman McCormick and to the President himself come every day letters and telegrams from men who have been prominent in the Bull Moose party and men who have been up to now dyed-in-wood Republicans, who pledge their support in this campaign. Chairman McCormick has made public a partial list of Republicans and former Progressives who have openly declared themselves for President Wilson's re-election. Many others, he said, have written him announcing in confidence their conversion to the Democracy as the party of true Americanism and the only instrument for progressive service.

Reports from the Pacific Coast indicate that practically the entire Progressive vote of several of those states will be cast for the President. The committees that were most enthusiastic in following Theodore Roosevelt as the Moses of political reform are the most bitter in denouncing his surrender, and the most determined not to be delivered back by Roosevelt, Perkins et al, to the unregenerated "crooks" of 1912.

In the State of Washington the Progressives and Republican stampede to Wilson is most pronounced. Women as well as men are included in the list.

In Idaho, the tide has set no less strongly for Wilson. The Boise Evening Capital News, the most influential newspaper in that State, has swung from a Progressive organ to a staunch supporter of the President.

The California stampede of the Moose, led by Francis J. Heney, Progressive candidate for the United States Senate, extends to every corner of that State. The Woodrow Wilson Progressive League, has enrolled thousands of members, and its officers report to national headquarters that the Wilson vote will include practically the entire Bull Moose vote of four years ago.

Many Progressive and Republican leaders of national prominence have declared for President Wilson.

BRITISH CHASE TURKS

The strong Turkish force which attacked the British at Romani, 22 miles east of the Suez Canal, on August 4, was defeated and put to flight by a counter attack. The Turks are being vigorously pursued by the British, who have taken more than 2,500 prisoners, including some Germans.

CZAR TAKES SIX VILLAGES

Storms Ridge on Sereth and Graberka Rivers in Galicia

CAPTURES 5,500 MEN

Berlin, However, Claims Success for Teuton Troops on Stokhod, East of Kovel

Petrograd, Aug. 7.—Russian attacks along the Sereth and Graberka rivers, south of Brody in Northern Galicia, broke the Teutonic resistance and resulted in the capture by the Russians of six villages and the entire ridge along which they are located, according to a War Office announcement. More than 5,500 prisoners were taken.

Since the loss of Brody by the Austrians and the successful operations of the Russians against the Germans, which resulted in their gaining the whole of the line along the Stokhod and the capture of several fortified villages considerably west of this river on the direct route to Kovel, the situation on the Russian (General Brusiloff's) front has remained virtually unaltered.

The Russians by no means have lost control of the initiative, but another wave of most energetic German resistance has set in and the newly organized German army, which is composed of all available reserves and fresh recruits, has undertaken the task of changing its tactics from passive resistance to a most active counter-offensive. Field Marshal von Hindenburg's personal direction of the operations in this field is quite apparent, but it is not thought possible by the Russian observers that he can more than temporarily check the advance of the Russian forces upon Kovel.

The Russians have succeeded in consolidating all the positions they won in the recent battle between the Stokhod and ovel, except one village, which they were compelled to yield before a determined German counter-attack. Meantime, the Russians, by gaining control of the northern part of the Stokhod, where it crosses the Pinsk marshes, seemingly have effectively eliminated all danger of further flank attacks by the Germans and now are in a position to continue their progress along the direct routes to Kovel without fear of the possible encircling of their right wing.

The Austrians, concentrating on the roads to Lemberg, are endeavoring to hold their opponents in the region of the Sereth river a few miles southwest of Brody. The Russians already have scored minor successes in this continuation of the Brody battle, but the strong Austrian defense leaves the outcome in doubt.

The extreme southern flank of the Austrian forces under General Pflanzer, which were so badly shattered after the fall of Czernowitz, have brought about a partial reorganization and are making a new attack upon the left wing of General Brusiloff's forces in the region southwest of Kut. This attack, however, is by small numbers of men, and military observers seem to think there is little hope of effecting any real change in the situation.

Berlin, Aug. 7.—A statement issued by German Army Headquarters says that on the eastern front the Russians have been driven from the position to which they were still clinging near Zarecz, on the Stokhod, in Southern Volhynia. In the Carpathians German troops are continuing their successful operations. The west bank of the River Sereth, near Salocz and northwest of that place, has been captured by the Russians.

REFUSES WRIT OF ERROR

Passenger Loses His Damage Suit for $20,000 Against Norfolk and Western Railway

Richmond, Aug. 7.—W. F. Loehr, who sued the Norfolk and Western Railway Company for $20,000 alleging damages to his good name and reputation growing out of his arrest on a warrant sworn out by representatives of the company, lost out Saturday when the State Supreme Court of Appeals refused to grant him a writ of error from the judgment of the Circuit Court of Prince George County, where a verdict was returned for the defendant.

According to a statement of the case filed with the petition for appeal, Loehr was on a train of the defendant bound from Hopewell to Petersburg on August 23, 1915. He was sitting in the smoking compartment with five other passengers, one of them a man named John W. Davis with whom he shared his seat. Thomas Stacy, a special officer of the railway company who had been impressed into service on this trip as acting conductor, engaged in a controversy with Davis over the fare, the latter producing a commuter's book which he refused to let out of his possession, although Stacy insisted that he had to take the book forward to the conductor in charge of the train to be punched.

There ensued a scuffle, in which Loehr was jostled about. In a minute the smoking compartment was in an uproar, and all the passengers mixed in the scuffle. Stacy finally whipped out a revolver and, pointed it at Davis and Loehr, succeeded in restoring quiet.

Warrants were later sworn out for the arrest of both Loehr and Davis. The former was tried before a magistrate's court in Hopewell and discharged. Loehr brought suit of $20,000 in the Circuit Court of Prince George County, for malicious prosecution, but the court returned a verdict for the defendant. The Supreme Court Saturday refused to grant a writ of error.

LESS BEER FOR GERMANY

The German government is seriously considering plans to reduce the consumption of beer. The brewers have been notified that the quantities of barley which they received so far for malt will have to be reduced further. This means less or weaker beer. As the public objects to any reduction of the quality of the national beverage, the quantity will have to be reduced and to this end the "food dictator" has proposed "beerless" days. The plan of the dictator meets with noisy opposition, especially in Bavaria where "beerless" days would almost be considered a national calamity. Strong protests also come from Saxony, Wuertemberg and Baden and the brewers and saloonkeepers called a convention to thresh out the whole matter.

PREDICTS GERMANY'S FALL

Joseph Reinach, famous French war historian says: "We have turned the corner. After a careful consideration of all the factors I believe that Germany cannot hold out for another twelve months, while Austrian-Hungary must collapse by the end of November at the outside. Economically the central empires have, of course, been bottom dog since the beginning of the war, and time only worsens their situation in this respect. But, as Lloyd George said, to defeat Germany we must smash the prestige of her armies by defeating her in the field, otherwise the allies will never be able to guarantee Europe a permanent peace. This we shall do. The German feet are now at the top of the slippery incline, and from now on she will slide steadily backward till she falls."

CHICAGO HEAT INCREASES

The heat wave, which had been diverted from Chicago by the timely rainstorms of last week, swept over Chicago again yesterday with a maximum temperature of 95.3 degrees at 2 o'clock and again sent inhabitants of the windy city swarming to the parks and the lake. Two deaths directly due to the heat were reported to the police and a number of prostrations were recorded.

Earl Sims twelve years old, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Sims, residing on Patrick street between Cameron and Queen street, died at 8 o'clock today at the Alexandria hospital.

COMPETITORS FOR HAY'S SEAT

List of Candidates Lengthens and Fight is Complicated

DOWNING IS WILLING

His Receptive Attitude Worries Friends of Judge Harrison—Move for Convention

The contest for Representative James Hay's seat in the House from the Seventh Virginia district is becoming more doubtful and complex every day, with the result that the Virginia political leaders cannot form an accurate idea of the outcome for the Democratic nomination.

Friends of Judge T. W. Harrison, of Winchester, until a week ago believed he would have a runaway race. But a new element, greatly complicating the contest, has arisen in the attitude of State Senator H. H. Downing, of Front Royal. A week ago Senator Downing's friends said he would not be a candidate on account of his health. But he has recently informed some of the Seventh district leaders that he will likely make the race.

Considerable pressure is being brought to bear on Downing to get into the fight by persons who hold that Judge Harrison is not developing any strength outside of his judicial circuit and that State Senator Early, of Greene, and Floyd Weaver, of Page, so far have made little headway. It is understood that Downing is now inclined to yield to this pressure.

Friends of Judge Harrison are much concerned over Senator Downing's inclination to run. They do not hesitate to say that he will make the Winchester jurist's strongest opponent. Senator Downing lives in the Seventeenth judicial circuit, over which Judge Harrison presides and where his greatest strength lies. Downing would be conceded Warren county by big majorities. He would also poll a good scattering vote in other counties, much of which he would take from Judge Harrison.

The situation, as it is now developing, causes the Seventh district leaders some concern. Judge R. K. W. Duke, of Albemarle county, chairman of the District Congressional Committee, has taken steps to call a meeting of the committee, the purpose of which has not been made public. Judge Duke wired other members of the committee asking them when they could conveniently meet. There is some talk of a movement to change the nominating plan from a primary, already called for September 2, to a convention. Judge Harrison's friends will oppose any such movement, as they want a primary. Under the primary plan, the last day for entering the contest is August 19.

The Seventh district has not had a real race for Congress since 1894, when Representative Hay was first nominated in a bitterly fought contest with Marshall McCormick, of Berryville, and Micajah Woods, of Albemarle. Ever since then Democratic leaders of that district have subordinated their ambitions in order that Mr. Hay might always have a unanimous renomination. Now that Mr. Hay intends to quit Congress, the Democratic leaders find a difficult task in lining up behind any one man.

CHILD CAUGHT IN MACHINE

While Charles E. Barron of Milford Pike, county, Pa., was cutting hay with a mowing machine Saturday, Mary, his 2 year old daughter, was caught in the blades and both legs were cut off. Barron did not know the child was in the field. She was playing in grass about three feet high, and the first her father knew of her presence was when he heard screams and saw her being mangled. Barron hurried the child to a hospital, and her life may be saved.

FORNEY DIVORCE SUIT ANOTHER HOT SUNDAY ADDRESS ON APOSTASY

Wife of Convict Enters Proceedings in the Corporation Court of This City.

Alexandria became mixed up Saturday in the sensational case of Thomas G. Forney, who was convicted recently of hiring thugs to kill his wealthy father-in-law, J. Franklin Schneider, a Washington millionaire. In order that he might obtain his vast wealth, when suit for absolute divorce was instituted against the convicted man by his wife, Mrs. Florence Schneider Forney, at the office of Clerk of the Courts Nevell S. Greenaway in this city.

Mrs. Forney did not appear in person, but application for the divorce was filed by her counsel, L. B. Perkins and Frederick P. Russell, the latter an Alexandria attorney.

When the case comes up it will be tried in the corporation court before Judge Louis C. Barley, of that tribunal, and it is expected that the divorce will be easily granted, as her husband has been confined in the state penitentiary of Pennsylvania ever since conviction. It is not known whether Mrs. Forney will appear in person during the suit.

Mrs. Forney's suit was filed on Saturday afternoon about four o'clock just before Mr. Greenaway's office closed for the day.

It will be remembered that Mrs. Forney, nee Miss Schneider, was one of Washington's most popular 1914 debutantes, and that shortly after her marriage to Forney, a Washington attorney, in 1915, the latter hired men to kill his father-in-law, whose life was fortunately saved, however, by the heaviness of a straw hat worn by the intended victim, which lessened the effect of the blow leveled at his head by a hammer in the hands of the assailant. The attempted murder took place in 1915 in a hotel in Pittsburgh, Pa.

CONNECTING WITH SEWERS

Plumbers Busy Engaged in Prosecuting Required Work

Plumbers in this city at the present time are taxed day and night connecting residences of numerous property owners with sewers, a large number of sewer permits necessary before same may be tapped under municipal regulations, having been taken out by residents after August 1, the date when Alexandria's compulsory sewer tap law became operative.

There were about two hundred and fifty delinquents on that date and, according to the letter of the law, these could have been fined from $5 to $50 for each day of delinquency right off, but as many were still coming into the office of the city engineer to obtain the requisite permits, they were allowed to keep on coming and now it is believed that nearly all have complied with the new law.

A few delinquents remain, however, and authorities are at work preparing a list of these who will be summoned to explain failure to comply with the law.

RECRUITING OFFICER

To Visit Alexandria Within a Few Days

Major W. T. Johnson has been detailed as Recruiting Officer for the National Guards of Virginia for this vicinity and has established his headquarters at Fredericksburg, Va., in the Post-Office Building.

Heavy Rain in Washington During Afternoon, With a Bare Suspension Here

The temperature of the last Sunday in July was entirely too high for comfort but the mercury was higher yesterday, the first Sunday in August, while the humidity of the atmosphere rendered conditions oppressive. The preceding night was torrid, and at sunrise yesterday it was apparent that a "sizzler" was to be encountered.

The services in the morning in the various churches were but slimly attended, and the larger percentage of people remained indoors most of the day.

Shortly after noon the heavens became overcast and a light short lived rain set in which failed to materially change conditions.

There was but little relief after sun down, and the comparatively few persons who attended the evening services in the churches were uncomfortable from start to finish. Many persons remained out of their beds until after midnight sighing for cooling zephyrs.

Thermometers at the weather bureau in Washington registered 91 degrees at 3 o'clock, and the lowest temperature recorded between 8 a. m. and 9 p. m., was 74 degrees.

No relief is promised, and hot weather and a high humidity probably will be the order for the remainder of the week.

AMERICAN RED CROSS

Members of Alexandria Chapter Soliciting Funds and Supplies for Soldiers.

Members of the Alexandria chapter of the American Red Cross are today soliciting funds and supplies for the members of the Alexandria Light Infantry, doing border duty with the other units of the National Guard, on the Mexican frontier. The Alexandria command is encamped at Brownsville, Tex., at the present time, but reports indicate that there is liable to be a change of location at any moment.

If the change is made the most likely place other than at Brownsville, for the encampment of the Virginia soldiers will be Mercedes, which is between Brownsville and El Paso.

In charge of the soliciting, which is being done at all times since the appointment of committees to send supplies, but for which end, it has been announced, special efforts would be made today, is the committee of the Alexandria Chapter of the Red Cross known as the committee of military relief, of which Mrs. H. P. Wilson, of Hollin Hall farm, Fairfax county, a few miles below this city, is the chairman, and Mrs. F. E. Ludwig, of Braddock Heights, the vice chairman.

A report will be made by this committee Wednesday morning at ten o'clock at the meeting of the local chapter.

CARLYLE HOUSE

Historic Landmark Being Remodeled and Improved

Restoration of the Carlyle House, on north Fairfax streets, and the old Herbert house, across the street, on the southwestern corner of Cameron and Fairfax streets, now known as the Anne Lee Memorial Home for the aged, managed under the auspices of the Seventeenth Virginia Regiment Chapter, United Daughters of the Confederacy, is taking place at the present time, work of remodeling and improving the latter having been practically completed, according to announcement several days ago, and the work of complete restoration of the Carlyle House, now almost entirely converted into modern apartments, known as The Wagar, being contemplated by its present owner, the Wagar Land Company.

Ernest E. Wagar, of that concern, already has refurnished all of the rooms with antique furniture and done much to restore it to its appearance in colonial days. More complete work will be started at an early date.

REUNION OF ODD FELLOWS.

D. R. Stansbury, of this city, is a member of the committee of arrangements for the annual reunion of the Odd Fellows of the states of Virginia, West Virginia, Pennsylvania, and Maryland, which will be held Thursday, August 10, at Pen Mar, Pa., and which will be attended by a large delegation of Odd Fellows from this city. Plans are being made by the Alexandrians to leave here Thursday morning at about 3 o'clock.

Elder of Seventh Day Advent Persuasion Delivers Sermon on "The Falling Away."

Notwithstanding the sultry conditions of last night, there was an average attendance at the gospel tent on north Washington street. The sermon was delivered by Elder R. T. Dowsett, of Takoma Park Station, Washington. He took his text from Jer. xvi, 19—"O Lord, my strength, and my fortress, and my refuge in the day of affliction. The gentiles shall come unto Thee from the ends of the earth, and shall say, Surely our fathers have inherited lies, vanity and things wherein there is no profit."

The speaker referred to Satan before his fall from heaven, when he was aspiring to be equal with God, and even wanted to exalt his throne beyond the stars of God. "I will ascend above the height of the clouds; I will be like the most high." The elder said he was defeated in his warfare at this time and was cast out of heaven together with all the angels who sympathized with him. He (Satan) made war and influenced the Roman power to think to change times and laws. On the other hand, he has influenced the many millions of Mahomedians to have their Sabbath Day on Friday instead of on Saturday, or the Sabbath. The rest the speaker said, who apostatized observe their day on Sunday, or the first day of the week, or on the other side of the Sabbath Day.

The subjects during the week will be a continuation of the study of the letters to the seven churches of Asia, in the first part of the Apocalypse.

THE CHURCHES YESTERDAY

Services in Most Houses of Worship Abbreviated

Because of the extreme heat yesterday average congregations attended services in but very few churches, and in most cases only a small number of worshippers were present at the different houses of prayer.

Very few churches held evening services and one or two of these cut to minimum brevity their evening services. At the First Baptist Church, it is announced, the heat was so great that the congregation abandoned the auditorium on the upper floor of the building where the services are usually held and preaching was held in the lecturer room below.

At St. Paul's Episcopal Church and the Second Presbyterian Church no evening services were held, but in the morning fair-sized congregations were present to the sermons of the visiting clergymen who occupied the pulpits in these churches. At Christ Episcopal Church no service at all was held during the day, as the church is closed for repairs during August.

CONDITIONS IN STATU QUO.

The Sunday law excitement, as was supposed from the first, has passed away, and soda water dispensers, ice cream vendors, and others who about six weeks ago were haled into the Police Court for violating the state law which provides a penalty of five dollars upon such persons as may transact business on the first day of the week are at "ease in Zion."

During the past third of a century several attempts have been made in this city to enforce this obsolete statute. The excitement incident thereto has soon passed away
as a nine-days' wonder after which conditions have resumed the normal.

It was Burke or Curran who said
it was impossible to indict a community,
and this observation, although made
many years ago, has proven correct.
The Irish jurist may have added that where a large majority in a community see no harm in certain proceedures, it is equally impossible to interdict them. Eating ice cream or drinking soda water has never caused a man to beat his wife or commit murder, and so long as no evil results to the body politic follow, it is virtually impossible to persuade the masses in the twentieth century to condemn what appears to be innocent.

We think it was General Grant who said the best way to get rid of an obnoxious law is to enforce it. He was also a wise man in his day and generation.

A Richmond contemporary, in speaking of the Sunday law of this state says:

Some years ago, when the police,
the preachers and the other authorities came to the agreement under which soda-water sellers and con-fectioners were tacitly allowed to do business on Sunday, under certain restrictions designed to avoid giving open offense to the sensibilities of the unco guid, one of the strongest arguments for that course was that,
unless this compromise were permitted, the dealers would obtain restaurant licenses and throw their places wide open.

Now it appears that the expected
has happened. The Sunday-observance lid has been clamped down, and,
in consequence, restaurant licenses
are in demand. In further consequence, many places that heretofore have observed at least outward respect for the Sabbath will proceed as if there were seven working days in every week. Now even the police or the courts interfere. The statute defines the keeper of an eating-house as
"Any person who shall cook or otherwise furnish, for compensation, diet or refreshments of any kind, for casual visitors at his home for consumption therein, and who is not the keeper of an ordinary house of private entertainment or boarding-house."

An eating-house or restaurant is include among the necessities, of course. So, under the statute and interpretations of it, we are in possession of a law which requires that any person who chooses to sell dinner or refreshments of any kind on Sunday be liable to arrest and prosecution, or to a fine of five dollars, or to both.

quora," but the rich field of the soft drink and the sweet is open to his hand. In short, the tax laws and the decisions have, in this respect, drawn the teeth of both the Sunday-observance law and the much dreaded butter act.

UNITED STATES TO PAY FINE.

Denmark has been forced to pay a secret indemnity to Germany for failure to maintain strict neutrality.
The indemnity exacted is understood to be as much as 80,000,000 kroner (about $22,400,000).

The offense occurred last winter
when the Baltic Sea was invaded by British submarines. To enter the Baltic from the North Sea, it is necessary to pass through Danish waters, strongly guarded by forts. Germany secured evidence that the English submarines could not have entered the Baltic without the permission or connivance of the Danish government. Of all the Scandinavian countries, the Danes are the strongest sympathizers with the allies, and have the strongest antipathy to Germany.

The United States has at times
during the past half of a century been endeavoring to purchase the Danish West Indies. Recently Denmark was ready to transfer them to this country for five million dollars, but Germany frowned at the procedure the Teutons having had their eyes upon them for years, but fearing friction
with the United States, the Fatherland was deterred from entering into direct negotiations with Denmark.

Germany is in no condition at present to exercise the power she once possessed in blocking other nations, and now that Denmark has been compelled to pay twenty-two million dollars fine to the Emperor William, she is ready to turn the islands over to the United States—not for five million dollars, however, but twenty-five million. In other words the advance she will realize will be about enough to liquidate the German claim. The United States must have these islands, as their possession by any other power now that the Panama Canal is in operation
would be detrimental to the interests of this country. The deal is expected to be consummated within the next few days.

DISPOSITION OF THE KAISER.

If the Allies should overrun Germany and beat her into submission,
what will be the fate of the Kaiser?
This query is propounded by the Baltimore Sun, which suggests that there is reason to believe that it would be as bad—if not worse—as the fate of Napoleon Bonaparte. He was shut up for life in an island
cage where he could do no more harm.
Great Britain headed the combination against the French conqueror; she heads the combination against the German Emperor, and she is not likely to be less implacable toward him, if she triumphs, than she was toward Napoleon. The latter gave her the greatest fright in her history a little more than one hundred years ago.
Germany's czar a century later has been threatening her supremacy on land and sea, in peace and war. If the Allies conquer, can they afford to include the Kaiser in their peace
terms?

If the Allies should finally destroy the Emperor's armies and occupy Germany as Germany has occupied Belgium momentous events would doubtless follow. In that event it is not at all improbable that we should then witness the most dramatic of tremendous tragedy—a court-martial of the nations to try William of Hohenzollern for his alleged crimes against mankind. And from ravished Belgium; from Serbia, swept by a trinity of horrors, war, plague and famine; from Poland's wretched millions; from crucified Armenia; from the bloody grave of the Lusitanians;
from the east and from the west,
from the north and the south, from Germany and Austria as well as from the antipodes, this international court would summon a vast array of accusing witnesses—men, women and children.

It is suggested it would not be just to hold the Emperor responsible for all the misery and suffering and loss of this war; but kings and peosants have died for far less. It is safe to predict that if the Allies of 1916 become masters of Berlin and Germany as the Allies of 1815 became masters of Paris and France,
it will go hard with the House of Hohenzollern. But in this as in many other matters the philosophy involved in the recipe for juggled hare still holds good. The Hohenzollern hare is not yet caught.

VIRGINIA NEWS

Twelve new cases of typhoid fever
were reported to the Health Department of Richmond Saturday.

William Henry Jones, jr., 55 years old, cashier of the Farmers' Bank of Nansemond, one of the best known bankers in the South, died Saturday in Suffolk. He had been in failing health for some time.

Edward Dickerson, 27 years old son of Mrs. Emma Dickerson, of Richmond was drowned yesterday afternoon while bathing in Antietam creek, near Funkstown, Md. In attempting to save him a brother was nearly drowned.

Edgar Smothers, the 6-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John Smothers, was struck and killed by lightning on the Tyler farm, near Seven Mile Ford
in the vicinity of Maric, last week.
William Shrader who resides in the same locality was killed by a stroke of lightning. Young Shrader was on a hay stack when he was struck.

Persistent reports, known to have been given some credence at the British vice-consulate offices, are being circulated in Norfolk to the effect that the undersea merchantman Deutschland's trip to the capes on last Wednesday night was merely a bluff, and that she later returned to Chesapeake Bay. It is declared that she is now in hiding, submerged in some deep hole.

L. N. Taylor, Seventh-Day Adventist, of Richmond, who was one of the first alleged violators of the Sunday law to appear in court on a charge of selling confectionery on the Sabbath, was on Saturday dismissed in Husting Court, Part II, by Judge E.
H. Wells. According to the ruling of the court a man, if he conscientiously observes Saturday as his Sabbath and closes his establishment on that day,
can operate on Sunday.

T. W. Patterson was accidentally shot Friday night at Sycamore, the country home of his uncle P. P. Patterson, of Richmond. Thomas Williams and T. W. ("Jack") Patterson were aroused in the night by a noise which they thought was caused by a burglar trying to enter the house and one of the boys went out of one door and the other out of another.
Williams, seeing Patterson in the yard, thought he was a burglar, and shot him in the back. Dr. P. E.
Tucker was called in, but the ball
could not be extracted. The wounded boy is a son of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Patterson, and is about seventeen years old. He is resting well and it is thought, will recover.

TEAMS STILL TIE

Eagles and Clarendon lead in Title Series With .750 Each.

Standing of Clubs	W.	L.	Pct.
Eagles	3	1	.750
A. C. A. A.	3	1	.750
Cardinals	2	2	.500
White Sox	0	4	.000

As a result of yesterday's games in the series for the amateur baseball championship of northern Virginia, in which Cardinals lost to Clarendon and the White Sox to the Eagles, the Eagles and the A. C. A. A. are in tie for first place, followed by the Cardinals and White Sox, respectively. This broke up the tie existing since last week between the Cardinals, Eagles, and Clarendon for the lead.

Cardinals, played under a great disadvantage, however, inasmuch as they had journeyed to Annapolis Saturday afternoon, where they defeated the plebe midshipmen by a narrow margin, but owing to poor train service, did not arrive in their home town until about one o'clock Sunday morning. This forced them to play yesterday's game with their opponents, the county athletes, with but several hours rest after a hard game Saturday.

The White Sox may be counted out of the running temporarily, at least, although it is possible that this club might take a brace and win several of their next games. They have been defeated by all of the clubs, however, the Eagles putting it over them twice, and comparison shows that they are not playing quite the same article of ball as the rest of the clubs.

Next Sunday, August 13, Cardinals line up against the White Sox, at Baggett's diamond, while the Eagles take on the A. C. A. A. nine at N. Alfred street. This game cannot possibly leave a tie for first place, as the two leaders play each other, but it is possible that tie may result for second place.

CARDS LOSE TO CLARENDON.

Take the Local Athletes Into Camp in Title Series, at Baggett's Diamond.

A large crowd witnessed the defeat of the Cardinals at Baggett's diamond yesterday in their fourth game of the title series by the Alexandria County Athletic Association nine from Clarendon.

Cardinals outthrew their opponents, but lost the game on errors, five misplays being chalked up against the Alexandria boys. This was due to the fact that the Cardinals got in from Annapolis late Saturday night after a hard game there with the midshipmen of the Naval Academy and needed rest.

Although toed the slab for the local boys while Von Herbulis twirled for the county team. Both pitched good ball, and the game was a hard-fought one from start to finish. The score at the end of the fray stood 5 to 3.

LOCAL SPORT SNAPS.

Cardinals Saturday took the fast plebe midshipmen of the United States Naval Academy into camp by a score of 7 to 6, George Allensworth serving them over for the locals in what was one of the most interesting, hardfought, and evenly contested matches the Cardinals have played this season.

Both teams played good ball and before the game the local athletes were taken "right-seeing" through the grounds of the academy by the plebe middies, the upper classmen being away on the cruise.

The nine representing Purcellville, in Loudoun county, was defeated by the Alexandria Eagles, Saturday, by the same score by which the midshipmen were defeated by the Cardinals, 7 to 6. Timely hitting by the Eagles won the contest for them.

Crawford, who started for the Eagles, was relieved by "Lefty" White who held down his opponents in fine form, and Hersberger was in the box for Purcellville.

A doubleheader was scheduled between the Eagles and Purcellville, but the first game went into extra innings and the second game was called in the fourth to allow the Eagles to catch a train.

Alexandria's fast going young amateur team, the Virginia Greys, took the measure of the Sherwood Athletic Club of Washington yesterday by the score of 11 to 2, and thus added another victory to their already long list. The Greys put up a good game of ball in the field, making several brilliant plays, and rapped out ten hits against their opposing moundsmen.

HE USED STOMACH PUMP EVERY DAY

First Half Bottle of Dreco Stopped All That Instantly!

Mr. D. H. Fulton, the Dreco man was talking the other morning about Dreco and what it has done.

"I guess I've at least 2,000 voluntary testimonials on file for Dreco. Every one means real suffering relieved! But here's one that even made a big impression on me, as used as I am to receiving them." And he handed out this statement from Mr. M. Oesterle, of No. 315 Maryland Avenue, Westport, employed as a glass blower by the Carr-Lowry firm.

"Everybody knows what a severe strain glass blowing is on a man's constitution. It fairly takes the life right out of a man and I don't know anything harder in the world in the way of work.

"My stomach gave me so much trouble that I was positively forced to use a stomach pump every day of my life, so I could get relief from the terrific pains after eating; to stay at work. Weak?—I was like a kitten! Eating got to be merely a habit—for I got mighty little good from the food I ate!

"I was biliousness personified, suffered from it almost constantly, and couldn't sleep right any night! But listen—I just want to hand all the credit to Dreco! I heard about it, bought a bottle—took half of it, and said good-by to the stomach pump. I'm sure, for good, for I haven't used it since."

"Now I eat my meals—eat what I want—get the real nourishment in them and am getting perfect assimilation of food without the slightest discomfort, and anything that can do that for a man in my condition—is some remedy!"

Dreco contains no mercury nor potash and can be given to children with equally good results as adults. Allen's Drug Store are agents for Alexandria.
